APPLICATION: Convention Against Torture

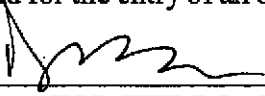

ORDER:

PER CURIAM. In an order dated (b) (6) the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the (b) (6) remanded the record to the Board to consider the respondent's claim for protection under the Convention Against Torture. A briefing schedule was set and briefs were received from both parties. In its brief, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) stipulates to the respondent's eligibility for deferral of removal under the Convention Against Torture. However, the DHS did not indicate, or provide evidence showing, that the respondent's required security checks are current. We therefore find that the respondent is eligible for protection under the Circuit Court of Appeals, dependent upon the required security checks, and remand the record to the Immigration Judge for further proceedings consistent with the foregoing opinion.

¹ We note that the respondent is presently detained at Krome, Florida.

(b) (6)

FURTHER ORDER: Pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 1003.1(d)(6), the record is remanded to the Immigration Judge for the purpose of allowing the Department of Homeland Security the opportunity to complete or update identity, law enforcement, or security investigations or examinations, and further proceedings, if necessary, and for the entry of an order as provided by 8 C.F.R. § 1003.47(h).
